

Amoena Natura Xtra Light - A Lightweight Breast Form

Amoena has designed a new solution for the users when they want a lighter-than-lightweight breast form - so here's your "Natura Xtra Light Breast Form".

Why would I need an Extra Lightweight Breast Prosthesis?

One of the challenges some women face after breast surgery is how to replace the weight of any missing breast tissue in a best way, to maintain a proper shoulder alignment and good overall body posture, particularly if they experience lymphedema, osteoporosis or neck and shoulder pain.

The Natura Xtra Light is a lighter than lightweight breast form - in fact it's nearly 40% lighter than other silicone forms of a similar size and shape, which means it can help reduce the strain on the shoulders, neck and back.

How is the Natura Xtra Light different from other Breast Forms?

1. Fit

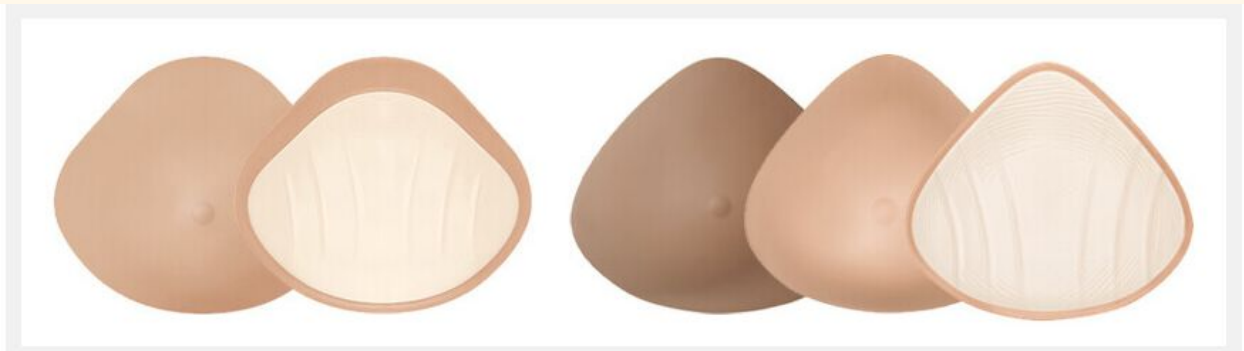

Natura Xtra Light fits comfortably in the pocket of a post-surgery bra cup and snugly against the chest wall. It is now available in 2 modern shapes - the 2SN and the 1SN (the latter for those with a somewhat shallow breast shape). The result is that now you have a breast form with a natural body sensation and drape.

2. Form

Some of the very light breast forms available in the market may not retain their shape once placed inside a pocketed bra cup. The Natura Xtra Light breast prosthesis has a unique two-layer design that helps the form stay upright in a bra.

3. Feel

This lightweight breast form helps you to gain the feeling of extreme comfort, also soft silicone helps to keep the temperature behind the breast form in the comfort zone - not too hot, not too cold - and in turn, helps to reduce perspiration.
